The Boastful Wind

the sun and the wind were talking one morning

I am the strongest said the wind no I am said the sun

let's see said the wind they watched a man walking with a coat

I will make him take off his coat said the wind he blew and blew

he is holding it tighter said the sun now it's my turn said the sun the sun warmed the man he took off his coat said the sun

I guess you win said the wind
