

Name: _____

Date: _____

Folktale Mad Libs

Dialogue Tag Word Bank

The Rabbit and the Coyote

Long ago, when the moon was still young and the stars whispered secrets to the earth, a clever rabbit was hopping through the desert when she heard a growl behind her.

Stop right there, Dinner _____

Rabbit froze, but only for a moment. Me? Dinner? Surely you mean someone else _____

I haven't eaten in three days! _____

Well then _____ you must be too weak to chase me!

Oh really? _____

Rabbit smiled slyly. Let's make a deal _____
If I can trick you before sundown, you let me go.

Coyote narrowed his eyes. Deal _____