

Family Fireworks

Oooh, ahh! My family and I were at the Juneteenth celebration. At first, the fireworks popped in the sky, and I covered my ears and pulled the blanket up to my chin. Then, we shared sandwiches, and I peeked out while my brother told silly jokes that made me giggle. We all leaned back to watch the colors sparkle, and I sat up tall with my eyes wide open. Finally, I hugged my mom tight and shouted, "This is the best family night ever!"
