Add

Ask yourself: "Am I missing words or phrases that make this sentence clear?"

When to use:

- Important details are missing.
- More words or phrases are needed for the reader to understand the idea.

Example: Harriet Tubman showed true bravery by continuing to risk her life for others.

Delete

Ask yourself: "Are there any unnecessary words or phrases that could be deleted?"

When to use:

- The sentence feels long and confusing.
- Information in the sentence is repeated or unnecessary.

Example: Harriet Tubman showed true bravery ~~and courage~~ by guiding others to freedom.

Change

Ask yourself: "Should any words be replaced with stronger or more specific words?"

When to use:

- Some words feel basic, boring, or vague.
- Specific vocabulary from the text would help explain the idea.

Example: Harriet Tubman ~~showed~~ demonstrated true ~~bravery~~ courage by continuing to risk her life for others.

Rearrange

Ask yourself: "Does the order of phrases and sentences make sense?"

When to use:

- Phrases or details are confusing and out of order.
- The order of phrases or details don't match the structure of the paragraph.

Example: Harriet Tubman repeatedly traveled down south. She promised to help others escape. → Harriet Tubman promised to help others escape, so she repeatedly traveled down south.
