

Sample Problem #1

Anansi was preparing for a big feast. He had gathered delicious fruits and nuts from all over the forest. He was ready to share with his friends. But when he went to his favorite spot to eat, he found something surprising. He looked around and saw that all of the food was missing! Anansi felt disappointed.

Sample Problem #2

One day, Anansi was walking through the forest, looking for something delicious to eat. As he walked, he spotted a big, juicy apple hanging from a tree branch. It looked delicious! But when Anansi tried to reach for the apple, his legs weren't long enough. He stretched and stretched, but the apple was still out of reach. He felt so frustrated!