Dear Members of the Committee,

I think you should make a stamp for Bruce Lee. He was a really cool martial arts actor and a lot of people still watch his movies today. One movie that shows how talented he was in Enter the Dragon.

In that movie, Bruce Lee plays a martial artist who goes to a fighting tournament on an island. The fight scenes are really intense and show how fast and strong he was. One of the most famous parts is when he fights in a room with mirrors. That scene is exciting and shows how smart and skilled his character is.

Bruce Lee died in 1973, but people still watch his movies and talk about them. Because he was so memorable in Enter the Dragon, I think he would be a good choice to put on a stamp.

Thank you for reading my letter.

Peace out,
